Sir:

The above-identified patent was inadvertently filed under small entity status. The small entity status was established in good faith. It has recently come to our attention that Ushio, Inc. acquired the Electrohome assets on November 1, 1999, and formed the Canadian company Christie (originally named Christie Digital Systems Inc. and subsequently renamed Christie Digital Systems Canada, Inc.). At that point, Ushio Inc. had more than 500 employees. It was previously believed that Christie transitioned from small to large entity in mid-2005. Therefore, the following fees are enclosed to correct the small entity status of the above-identified patent:

New application fee (original paid as small entity on January 31, 2002) -- $370.00; and

Issue fee (originally paid as small entity on March 15, 2004) -- $665.00.

If there are any additional fees associated with filing of this Amendment, please charge the same to our Deposit Account No. 19-3935.

Respectfully submitted,
STAAS & HALSEY LLP
